

Too light.
Wrong exposure.
Quite grainy.

I feel as though I wasn't focused enough in the lesson and none of the tests work. I think I need another lesson with Adriaan's help, just to try and get my head around the process better.

The test above probably worked out the best, the visual texture/details show well, there's more of a gradient, and showing right in each area.